

2023 REVENUE INTEGRITY WEEK

— JUNE 5–9 —

ACTIVITY SHEET

When planning your Revenue Integrity Week celebration, consider the following recommendations from NAHRI:

- Use the NAHRI crossword puzzle, word search, pop quiz, and other items from our 2023 Activity Guide to run a friendly competition among your department and colleagues from other departments. Whoever finishes the quickest and gets the most correct gets a prize—or bragging rights! Answer keys are provided for the puzzles, word search, and quiz.
- Ask your team members to submit photos of themselves with a brief bio and a few facts. Create a PowerPoint or post and share it systemwide.
- Send virtual or physical thank-you cards to your team and other colleagues who work closely with you.
- Ask each team member to send in a few unknown facts. Compile them into a list and ask the team to match the facts with the person.
- Download NAHRI's 2023 State of the Revenue Integrity Industry Survey Report and distribute it to your team. Schedule a time to discuss what the results mean to your facility.
- Make sure your colleagues receive the accolades they deserve and nominate them as part of NAHRI's Peer Recognition Program. Certificates of recognition will be distributed to all who are nominated. All nominees and nominators will be entered into a drawing.
- If you're a NAHRI member, be on the lookout for a free on-demand webinar in our Revenue Integrity Insider newsletter every day during Revenue Integrity Week. Not a member? Become one at our special discounted rate. Registering for a membership will also get you entered into a drawing.
- Use the hashtag #RevenueIntegrityWeek on Twitter to make sure your followers are aware of your celebration. By using the hashtag, you'll be entered into the Loyal Listener Library drawing.
- Print out a Revenue Integrity Week poster to display as you participate in video conferences or at your facility. The toolkit also offers logos that you can use on your email signatures, social media accounts, and more as you celebrate Revenue Integrity Week! Some members even use these logos for t-shirts, mugs, and more.
- Plan an event that will benefit your team, such as virtual or onsite education or a lunch and learn session, or something that will benefit your community, like a food drive with donations going to a local food pantry.
